

Lean Transformation - Policy Strategy Deployment

Policy deployment [Direction setting]

Policy Deployment is a way for leaders to translate high level Business and Project Strategy into manageable objectives for teams and individuals.

This methodology helps leaders set direction for their organisation to follow, helps to maintain that direction and gets the best from the organisations resources.

We have been using this technique successfully for many years on large projects, programmes and within the construction business itself.

Using this technique, we are able to help our clients bring about a fundamental shift in team performance
